SEAVIEW PERFORMING ARTS CENTER FOR EDUCATION

ALOHA,

All Puna residents and friends are invited to participate in an exciting new development for our children and community, designed as a direct solution to the shortage of after-school activities for at-risk Puna youth.

Fifteen years ago, a group of professional circus arts performers and teachers purchased "Bellyacres" a 12 acre kipuka next to Seaview Estates in Kehena. We promised the community that we would build a performing arts education center as a home for our Hiccup Circus and a facility for other community activities.

The dream is nearing; we have secured the 'special use' permit, complete building plans, a comprehensive business plan and funders interested in supporting the project.

All we need now is to demonstrate our grassroots community support. We urgently need to raise $130,000 in cash and pledges of in-kind services.

In these tough economic times, we cannot wait for the County or State to provide us with the facilities our communities need. We must act to make our neighborhood a better place to live. Please help us now to provide more healthy, fun activities with your donation, every little bit is appreciated.
Sincerely,

Graham Ellis

is about change.

Positive change, social change, and loose change.

Changes for our kids, our Big Island community and performance artists everywhere.

We have the plans and permits and promises of capital support for this grand facility.

All we need now is your loose change, pocket change and big checks.
